

Johnny Walker and Aruba Trading Company say “Get Grilling!!”

Aruba Trading Company announced that they as of March 1 they are commencing another campaign to “Get Grilling with the Striding Man.,” which was very successful last year. The results will be the awarding of three fully equipped stainless steel gas barbecues for lucky winners that purchase Johnny Walker Black or Johnny Walker Red over the next few months, until Father’s Day.

The first of the three prizes will be awarded on April 2, for the week of Semana Santa, just in time for camping and outdoor cooking. Whenever a customer purchases a one-liter bottle of Johnny Walker, either black or red, they will receive a raffle ticket to fill out and place in the appropriate box. The purchase of a two-liter bottle will reward them with two raffle tickets, and so doubles their chances of winning. The final drawings in the campaign will be just before Father’s Day, awarding two Dads with a very nice surprise on their special day of a Member Selection stainless steel grill.

Aruba Trading Company Sales and Marketing Manager Jorge Curiel, assisted by the lovely Nicole exhibited the beautiful grills that can be won by anyone stocking Johnny Walker for all their party needs during this new campaign, encouraging the public to “party on and get grilling!”